

Haiku a Day

The world turns colder

The nights longer, darkness reigns

Nature grows sleepy

Issue 40: October 2008

St. Joshua Norton Press
Mathom House in Midtown | The People's Republic of Ames

It's the first of November, and I'm off for a week. I plan to sit around and do absolutely nothing.

Download this and previous HADs at the website, so you can print out your own (DIY, yeah!) or if you want me to send you one, send me your address, and maybe a stamp if you are feeling nice. Or send me something you've made — trades always appreciated, postcards are nice too.

1 October 2008

Autumn comes quickly
In a snap; I rush to close
Windows long open

2 October 2008

Fuzzy through the air
Comes the next vice president
Fun to watch, at least

3 October 2008

Blur at twenty-four
What is stopped becomes motion
And then still again

25 October 2008

Two trains in the night
A whailing cry, booming sounds
Then silence returns

26 October 2008

A line for cider
Stretches away from the mill
The wait is worth it

27 October 2008

The evening shattered
The howl of a leaf blower
Just use a damn rake

28 October 2008

Handfulls of paper
Stuffed away in old boxes
Bring back memories

29 October 2008

Walking in the dark
Crunching frost under my feet
Refreshing cold air

30 October 2008

Wheeler Park grows dark
A constellation of light
As cyclists race off

31 October 2008

Random anime
And then Army of Darkness
What a fine evening

4 October 2008

Busy worker bee
Buzzing through my apartment
Lots of stuff is done

5 October 2008

Bike polo kicks ass!
Two good games, excellent play
And a ton of fun

6 October 2008

Click, drag, click, drag, click
Repetative editing
Bored out of my mind

7 October 2008

Gritty grains melted
Hot, incandescent, then cool
Becomes clear and smooth

8 October 2008

July tore fingers
October tries to mend them
Now I type funny

9 October 2008

Americano
Take a stack of newspapers
Sit in the corner

10 October 2008

Far whistles blowing
Two trains passing in the night
Want to tell the world

11 October 2008

A race to the end
Random routes in the night time
Cider and doughnuts

12 October 2008

The blur of the day
Stops when you think about it
Who has time for that?

13 October 2008

Doughnut day today?
I'm afraid, did I miss it?
No, it is next week.

14 October 2008

vos dumps are too slow
And I keep losing my creds
localauth fixes

15 October 2008

A fan hums softly
Late in the fall; I wonder
When it goes away

16 October 2008

FD_SETSIZE hate
glibc sucks major ass
I hate you, linux

17 October 2008

Espresso machine
Sitting sadly, not working
Side torn off, naked

18 October 2008

Autumn's bold colors
Captured in a split second
A series of bits

19 October 2008

Corner Brewery
Waiting for the Fall Riders
Enjoying the breeze

20 October 2008

A bagel, perfect
A torus of toasty joy
Wonderful, sublime

21 October 2008

Haven in the dark
Light and warmth full of good smells
A sight to behold

22 October 2008

Frost hides in the shade
And the Sun, seeking it out
Enters dark corners

23 October 2008

Happy stripey socks
Color circles my ankle
Make my feet cheerful

24 October 2008

Holes in my sweater
Need patching before they grow
I must get some thread
